GREAT BOER WAR SEEN IN MIMIC

Six Hundred Soldiers Fight Old Battles Over Again.

GENERAL CRONJE AT HEAD

The Boer Commander Accompanies the Organization.

General Piet Cronje, the famous Boer commander will appear in Richmond on Wednesday and Thursday, with his gigantic military spectacle, which was one of the crowning features of the St. Louis Exposition.

The sturdy old veteran together with his aggregation of six hundred Boers and British soldiers and officers arrived in America on April 6th, last year. The first point made was Newport News, Virginia, where the entire outfit was transferred from the ocean liner to the Chesapeake and Ohio railroad and moved to St. Louis, where they exhibited during the several months of Exposition.

The general was most impressed with America when he first landed and particularly so with Virginia. Before going west he remained in Newport News several days and made friends there.

The party was to have stopped in Richmond en route to the fair, but owing to the fact that their engagement there was so pressing, they found it impossible to stop over. The general is a great admirer of the Southern people and particularly of the Confederate officers, whom he is always glad to meet.

The most notable battle in which General Cronje participated was the battle of Paardeburg, when he, with 20,000 men, held the British forces of 30,000 men at bay for 10 days, after which time the little band of Boers were compelled to surrender, having been worn out from fatigue and lack of supplies. This great battle will be presented as nearly as possible as it actually occurred.

General Cronje was and is recognized by military authorities as one of the first tacticians of the world and is referred to constantly where officers' schools are in session.

Originator of Spectacle.

Captain Arthur Waldo Lewis, originator and general manager of the huge Boer War Spectacle recently volunteered some interesting statements regarding this wonderful organization.

Captain Lewis is an American by birth, but at the outbreak of hostilities in South Africa he obtained a commission in the Canadian Scouts, who were just leaving for Cape Town, and he served with them with distinction throughout the entire campaign.

"Subsequently," said Captain Lewis, "I returned to my home in Missouri and it was during a visit to St. Louis in the fall of 1903, while the World's Fair was under construction, that the idea occurred to me that if I could get some of the historic scenes of the late war reproduced in St. Louis by the very men who participated in the real struggle in South Africa, I would have the 'Feature of the Fair.' I returned to Cape Town and explained my ideas to some of the most prominent men of the country and the proposition was readily taken up.

"We advertised for men to join the company and received hundreds of applications from Boer and British. Six hundred in all were selected, each having a record of long service in the field, and on March 16th the small army embarked on the 'Dounie Castle,' which was specially chartered to bring the men together with the large quantity of warlike equipment necessary for the show, to this country.

How He Secured Cronje.
 "Many people have wondered how I was able to persuade General Cronje to join the expedition," continued Captain Lewis, "but though he at first refused, he had a strong desire to leave the country where he had lost friend and fortune and I had no great difficulty in persuading him to set aside his scruples and accept my offer.

GENERAL PIET A. CRONJE.

"He was also advised to come by some of his best friends, and I think I may say he has never regretted it."

"And how did the Boer and British get along together?"

"Surprisingly well from the start," said the Captain, "beyond one or two little personal affairs which are bound to occur among so many men."

"When the company was being formed there were those who expressed their opinion that Boer and Briton would not hit it off together, but fortunately they were quite mistaken."

Six Hundred Soldiers.
 Immediately upon arrival, the great task of detouring the troops will be commenced. Everything will be carried out swiftly and with perfect order, under military discipline, and when the public have just begun to discover that an army is in the city they have already pitched their camp. In all, there are six hundred soldiers, the Boers having a slight majority over the British. The entire organization is three times as large as any previous one ever gotten together and the expense of moving the company is enormous. In addition to four hundred horses there are a number of South African oxen and Maseur mules, with transport wagons and ammunition, ambulances, wagons, together with Cape carts. Aside from the six hundred Boer and British veterans, there is a large party of South African natives, Zulus, Basutos, Barotses, Kaffirs, don.

The implements used in the mimic war include twelve large cannon and ten rapid fire guns and two guns manned by a British naval brigade. These dogs of war were actually used in the bloody conflicts as were all the ambulance and supply wagons.

The aggregation travels on a special train and carry other cars loaded with rifles, ammunition, spare uniforms and men's kits, over one hundred tents, large and small; cooking utensils and provisions, surgeons' and veterinary surgeon's supplies, and portable grandstand, which accommodates 10,000 people, the whole forming one of the largest aggregations ever organized.

The show grounds at the head of Broad Street will be transformed into a veritable battlefield, and hills and rivers, kopjes and mountains will appear in the background. Each engagement is thrilling and gives the spectator a graphic picture of battles as they were fought in South Africa. There will be two performances each day, one in the afternoon, the other in the evening, and a street parade Wednesday.

WILMINGTON, N. C.

(Special to the Times-Dispatch.)
 WILMINGTON, N. C., April 22.—The social event of the week here was the marriage Wednesday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock of Mr. H. Allen Huggins and Miss Lena Payne Everett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Everett.

The ceremony was performed by Dr. J. M. Wells, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church. The bride was attended in white muslin gown and carried bride roses. The maid of honor was Miss Carrie Lathrop, who wore a blue and white gown. The bridesmaids were Misses Garland, Rose, of Raleigh, N. C.

After the ceremony the young couple held an informal reception, leaving on the evening train for Washington, where they will spend the honeymoon, stopping at O. D. Ford on the return.

Mr. F. W. Holden, the popular young secretary of Mr. F. B. Williamson, of the Seaboard and the married couple will move on the 15th instant, to Miss Ethel Schaeffer, of this city. The couple will make their home in Wilmington, where they will be a May day festival and a competitive exhibit of babies under three years of age on Monday, which promises to be a largely attended affair. Competent judges will decide upon which of the babies shall be awarded the prize.

Captain J. Alexander McPherson, one of the most prominent survivors in this section of the Civil War, died at his home at Falmouth, Va., last week, of a long illness of feeble health, at the age of sixty-six years. Captain McPherson's wife, who died some years ago, was Miss Belle McNeill, a sister of Hon. Franklin McNeill, chairman of the State Corporation Commission.

At Christian this week occurred the marriage of Mr. John D. Singletary and Miss Lizzie Marechal, the ceremony being performed by Rev. A. McPherson. An elegant reception was tendered after the ceremony. The young couple will reside at Charleston, their future home.

The Harbormen have celebrated this week by holding a street carnival and fair here, which has proven a source of great enjoyment to hundreds of people. The usual attractions were on the programme and those who attended had a general good time.

The Easter sermon of the Trinity Club has been indefinitely postponed.

The Wilmington Lodge of Elks were addressed this week by Mr. J. H. Bonham, who is here to organize the traveling men into a local post of the T. P. A.

The daughters of the Confederacy have selected Rev. N. M. Watson, pastor of Grace Street Methodist Church, as the orator for the annual service to be held at the graves of the Confederate dead will be remembered.

Governor Heyward, of South Carolina, has been invited to the Wilmington Parkland to be here on the occasion of the anniversary exercises and make addresses. It is not known yet whether or not Governor Heyward will accept the invitation.

CHARLES CITY NEWS.

(Special to the Times-Dispatch.)
 CHARLES CITY, VA., April 22.—The question of a new graded school here next year has been completely agitated lately. The school population is continually on the increase and many of the scholars are too far advanced for the present school system.

The new mill business is on a big boom in this community. Not less than four can be heard in operation from this place. Preparations are being made by the children of the Raleigh School here for a big day last Easter Monday.

Colonel E. H. Townsend, of Washington, has arrived at his country residence (Ruman, Chickabombay) for the season.

Miss Sallie Terrell has returned to her home at Louisa after a visit of several months at Sterling.

Miss Sallie Youngs Christian entertained a party of her friends Friday evening at a sugar stew. Among those present were

THE FIRST GOVERNOR IN MECKLENBURG

Senator Martin Expected to Visit the June Court.

(Special to the Times-Dispatch.)
 CHASE CITY, VA., April 22.—Many candidates for Governor have been in this county in former days, but Governor Montague occupies the unique position of being the only person while Governor of Mecklenburg, who has been in the county of Mecklenburg.

His friends are now very enthusiastic for him in his aspirations. Senator Martin will doubtless be here at June court, so his numerous supporters predict.

Judge Henry Wood is often spoken of as a candidate for the State Senate from this district, composed of Brunswick and Mecklenburg. He is well suited for the position and will make a formidable candidate.

Plans have been prepared for an improved passenger reception and waiting rooms at this place. This improvement is greatly needed. The old unsightly warehouses near the present depot will be removed.

The people here are still working for the location of the line of the Tidewater Railroad by this town. The right of way through the county will doubtless be secured by this place and South Hill. About $6,000 have been pledged for this purpose.

Captain John A. Coke and wife, of Richmond, are at the Mecklenburg.

INJUNCTION AGAINST PERSISTENT WOMAN

(By Associated Press.)
 KNOXVILLE, TENN., April 22.—W. J. Oliver, a prominent railroad contractor of this city, filed a bill in the Chancery Court to-day against Miss Nonnie Cross, enjoining her from annoying himself and members of his family, and from interfering with his office and residence and railroad construction work in this and other States, particularly Georgia. Chancellor Shedd granted the injunction and bond of five thousand dollars was given. Some time ago Miss Cross brought suit against Mr. Oliver for one hundred thousand dollars' damages for alleged breach of promise, the alleged proposition of marriage having been made while Mr. Oliver was a widower and previous to his second marriage. He claims that he has paid her something over three thousand dollars in full settlement of her alleged claims.

MINNETREE AGENT FOR PANAMA BOARD

(By Associated Press.)
 WASHINGTON, D. C., April 22.—It is reliably stated that Colonel Joseph A. Minnetree, general purchasing agent of the Southern Railway, will be offered the position of general purchasing agent of the Panama Canal Commission. It is not known that he will accept the position. He has been with the Southern for years, and is one of the best known officials of that road. He served through the war, a large part of the time as a member of the staff of General William Mahone, who won lasting fame at the Crater, before Petersburg. It is understood that the commission has practically decided to tender the place to Colonel Minnetree, unless he should indicate in the meantime that he would not consider the offer.
